

Intercollegiate Athletics

Go Pack!

NC State has a long and storied history in athletics, as well as a loud and passionate fanbase that supports the Wolfpack faithfully. The university's athletics programs (<http://www.gopack.com/>) enjoy a tradition of excellence as they compete in the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference.

The athletics program is self-supporting and is operated primarily through gate receipts, radio and television revenues, NCAA distributions, student fees, and private donations. Funds for athletics grants-in-aid are provided through the North Carolina State Student Aid Association, also known as the Wolfpack Club.

Sports

The Department of Athletics conducts the university's intercollegiate athletics program, which includes 22 varsity sports. The athletics program is administered by the Director of Athletics, Boo Corrigan. The Council on Athletics is appointed by the Chancellor and serves in an advisory capacity to the Director of Athletics and the Chancellor.

Men's varsity sports include soccer, cross country, and football in the fall; basketball, swimming and diving, indoor track, and wrestling in the winter; and outdoor track, golf, tennis, and baseball in the spring. The Wolfpack's football facility, Carter-Finley Stadium, boasts 56,919 permanent seats as well as entertainment areas. The stadium also boasts one of the largest videoboards in college football, making the atmosphere at NC State home games electric. The 106,000 square-foot Murphy Football Center, which is the operations hub for the football program, stands in the south end zone, while the Finley Fieldhouse houses visitor locker rooms and other operations spaces on the north end of the field. Soaring high above it all is TowneBank Center, a 117,000 square-foot structure along the west grandstand that houses 955 club-level seats, 51 private luxury suites, a University suite for the Chancellor, and a state-of-the-art press box.

The men's basketball squad competes in the Lenovo Center, which boasts one of the top capacities in the Atlantic Coast Conference with seating for 19,500 fans. Since the facility opened for the 1999-2000 season, NC State has finished every year in the top-25 nationally in attendance.

The women's basketball squad competes on Kay Yow Court in the James T. Valvano Arena at William Neal Reynolds Coliseum – one of nine areas on campus designated as a “hallowed space.” The arena, which has become known as one of the toughest places to play in the country, has seating for 5,500 in the facility which recently underwent a $35 million renovation and now houses the Wolfpack Walk of Fame and History. It's also the home for Wolfpack's volleyball, gymnastics, and wrestling, as well as NC State's ROTC programs.

Located in the heart of campus, the Dail Soccer Field is located inside Paul Derr Track under stadium lights. Adjacent to that complex is the Dail Softball Stadium. Situated across from historic Reynolds Coliseum, the picturesque campus setting serves as the background for one of the best softball facilities in the ACC.

With seating for 3,048, Doak Field at Dail Park has been the home of Wolfpack baseball for over 50 years and is undergoing a renovation that already includes new amenities for fans, as well as a new field, renovated dugouts and new outfield bullpens. Future updates to The Doak will include more fan experience improvements and new competitive team performance spaces.

Across the street from “The Doak” is the J.W. Isenhour Tennis Center. The outdoor stadium has six lighted courts, chairback seating for up to 1,000 spectators, and an electronic scoreboard. The indoor courts, named in honor of former Wolfpack standout Andy Andrews, provides seating for up to 200 spectators.

The golf team trains at the beautiful Lonnie Poole Golf Course, an 18-hole, 7,350-yard, par 71 public course located on Centennial Campus. The $11.6 million Arnold Palmer Signature multipurpose golf course also houses a research center and The Carol Johnson Poole Clubhouse and a new short-game practice area. This facility also supports critical academic programs, including the Professional Golf Management (PGM) and turfgrass programs.

The Willis R. Casey Aquatic Center serves as the hub for the Pack's nationally-ranked swimming and diving teams. The site of many ACC Championship meets over the years, it features two pools and spectacular seating for approximately 1,000 fans.

The Wolfpack's athletics administrative offices and coaches' offices for soccer, track and cross country, and wrestling are located in the Weisiger Brown General Athletics Facility. The Case Athletics Center houses the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes.
