Leadership in the Public Sector (LPS)

LPS 200  Introduction to Public Leadership  (3 credit hours)
This introductory course is designed for students who are interested in exploring public sector leadership. It starts with acquainting how to conduct adequate academic research for studying leadership. Covering fundamental concepts and assumptions of leadership, it will focus on necessary skills and approaches for good public and non-profit sector leadership. The course will also address contemporary e-government practices and the role of information technology in the public sector.

Typically offered in Fall, Spring, and Summer

LPS 201  The Humanitarian Response to Conflict  (3 credit hours)
LPS 201 offers an introduction to the ideals and paradoxes of humanitarian intervention, with a special emphasis on military responses to humanitarian crises. This course explores the history, animating ideals and contemporary paradoxes of humanitarian action and related military interventions. Throughout history and ever increasingly in the present, there is an intersection between military and humanitarian operations in conflict zones.

Typically offered in Fall only

LPS 202  Essentials of Fundraising for Leaders in Public and Non-Profit Institutions  (3 credit hours)
The course covers the basics of fundraising for public and non-profit agencies which include the agencies history, board development, event planning, and the motivation of the giver. In addition, the students will learn the elements of grant proposals related to public sector agencies. The work will include case studies, weekly lectures, discussion assignments, final exam and a special event planning proposal.

Typically offered in Fall only

LPS 205  International Leadership for the Public Sector  (3 credit hours)

Typically offered in Fall only

LPS 210  LPS Career Development  (1 credit hours)
This course is designed for senior status LPS students who are considering a career change and are interested in exploring job opportunities related to the public sector field. Students will learn about their personal strengths, values, skills, and understand how these self-assessments will affect their career choices. Explorations of these areas include specific emphasis on developing and refining interviewing skills, professional and personal networks, and job application and selection.

Restriction: LPS Senior Status Only
Typically offered in Spring only

LPS 302  Diversity and Leadership in the Public Sector  (3 credit hours)
This course provides students with information regarding diversity and leadership in history as well as material and activities that foster an understanding of how diversity and leadership intersect in the public sector and how diversity can improve org

GEP U.S. Diversity
Typically offered in Fall and Spring

LPS 315  Public Leadership  (3 credit hours)
Nature and varieties of political leadership by elected and appointed officials in government, officials and volunteers in nonprofit organizations, and leaders of political movements and community groups. The course draws on literature in political science, self-assessment of student's leadership characteristics, and examination of outlets for political leadership activity.

GEP Social Sciences
Typically offered in Fall, Spring, and Summer

LPS 320  Research Methodology for the Public Sector  (3 credit hours)
This course will teach students to investigate political and policy related questions in a systematic and scientifically rigorous fashion. Students will become familiar with the basic toolkit of social science methodology, practice basic data analysis, and develop a research project. They will acquire the skills essential for evaluating the claims of others and for advancing sound arguments of their own. This knowledge is applicable in a wide variety of organizational research, needs assessment, program and performance evaluation.

Typically offered in Fall, Spring, and Summer

LPS 398  Special Topics in Leadership in the Public Sector  (3 credit hours)
For topics not part of regular course offerings, or offering of new courses on a trial basis. May be taken up to three times provided the topics are different.

Typically offered in Fall, Spring, and Summer

LPS 400  Advanced Military Leadership Theory  (3 credit hours)
Advanced Military Leadership Theory (AMLT) is a challenging course that will study, practice, and apply the fundamentals of leadership, values and ethics, personal development, decision-making, influencing and motivating others and team tactics in problem solving and mission accomplishment. Especially military officers enrolled in the LPS program will gain immediate benefit from the leadership self-assessments and new leadership strategies.

Typically offered in Fall and Summer
LPS 425  Leadership in the Public & Nonprofit Sectors Capstone  (3 credit hours)
Leadership is a critical topic in public, nonprofit, and business administration. Leadership is what we expect of U.S. presidents, association directors, and CEOs, as well as of mid-level and frontline supervisors. Clearly, leaders are awarded the accolades when the organization succeeds and given the blame for its failures. But organizations succeed not just because of the top leader’s actions; a positive leadership climate that pervades the organization helps it to learn, adapt, and perform at a high level. Only LPS major students must complete LPS 200 Introduction to Public Leadership course prior to enrolling in LPS 425.

Prerequisite: LPS Majors need to have passed LPS 200
Typically offered in Spring only

LPS 490  Undergraduate Internship in Leadership in the Public Sector  (1-3 credit hours)
Students can earn 1-3 credits for completing internships in the public sector or non-profit agencies. Emphasis is placed on gaining work experience needed to explore and plan careers in the public and non-profit sector. Students must prepare an intern

Prerequisite: LPS 200
Typically offered in Fall, Spring, and Summer