NC State students have the opportunity to produce and manage a variety of student-oriented media. By working with these media, students gain valuable co-curricular experience in sales, marketing, journalism, broadcasting, production, design, multimedia communication, leadership and management. NC State offers six media outlets staffed by students and supported in part by self-generated non-fee revenue, as well as a student-staffed Business and Marketing office which coordinates advertising sales, sponsorships and full-service marketing opportunities for all six media. Many staff positions are paid. Visit the department website (https://studentmedia.dasa.ncsu.edu/).

Agromeck

_Aagromeck_, the university’s yearbook first published in 1903, provides a record in words and pictures of student and campus activities each year. Student staff members include photojournalists, writers, designers and editors, all with a common mission: documenting the history of the university from the student perspective. The _Agromeck_ has received the nation’s highest awards for general excellence and photography as well as national Pacemaker and Crown awards from the Associated College Press and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, respectively.

Nubian Message

_Nubian Message_ provides news and features about the Black community at NC State, as well as coverage of regional, state and national issues of interest to our students. To find out more about this bi-weekly publication, visit the _Nubian Message_.

Roundabout

_Roundabout_ is a glossy, full-color, general interest magazine printed three times a year in the fall, spring and summer semesters. Each edition highlights topics relevant to students during that time of year, such as housing, wellness, and dining and culture.

Technician

_Technician_, the university’s oldest student newspaper, is published each Thursday when school is in session during the fall and spring semesters, and online with breaking news and online-only content year-round. With a print circulation of 3,000 copies at nearly 90 newsstands on and near campus, _Technician_ has earned numerous state and national awards for news, features, sports, opinion writing and photography, as well as general excellence. Online, you’ll find continuous updates of news, features, sports, campus events, and other content of interest to students, including video, audio and photo slideshows.

Windhover

_Windhover_, the campus literary and visual arts magazine, is published each spring. As a showcase for NC State’s creative writers, poets, artists, photographers and musicians. It has received numerous national awards, including the Pacemaker from the Associated Collegiate Press and Gold and Silver Crown awards from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
